Kvosin Hotel

Kvosin is located in the heart of Reykjavík. When I talk about the heart of Reykjavík I'm referring to the strong beating muscle that lies in the middle and pumps oxygen and energy into every other part of Reykjavík and Iceland. It's a good place to be.

Kvosin is a modern hotel in an old building. The spirit of the house is thus a great mix of old and new. You don't have to go long distances to find some inspiration and fun. In less than three minutes walking distance are cafés, bars, clubs, museums, Harpa (concerts and conventions), the mayor, ducks and politicians working in the Icelandic parliament next door.
